Yeas — Commissioners Archibald, Monahan, Raymond, Mayor Gillen.

Newark, N J, May 10, 1918.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Commissioners was held on the above date, in the Council Chamber, City Hall, Newark, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Present — Commissioners Archibald, Monahan, Raymond, Mayor Gillen.

Absent—Commissioner Brennan.

The Commission discussed the matter of increasing salaries of city employees. It was proposed by Mayor Gillen that an expert be employed, at a reasonable rate, to look over the payrolls with the purpose of making increases on an efficiency basis. He stated that the project of standardizing salaries had been before the Commissioners ever since they took office. He stated that in his own department there had been many requests for raises, some of which were merited and others that were not, and that there was not enough money in his budget to grant all the requests. He stated that the matter of salary increases is the most troublesome proposition the officials have to deal with, and that if some increases are put through and others held up it would tend to completely disorganize the city departments.

Commissioner Archibald, in presenting his recommendations for salary increases, stated it had been suggested several weeks ago that each Commissioner make such recommendations and that if these changes were made they would take care of all the employees in his department.

Commissioner Raymond stated that he was not quite prepared to submit his recommendations at this time, but thought he would be able to submit a list for the next meeting. He stated that some time ago he took the Mayor's view that there should be an expert investigation, but today the matter has reached the point where it is an economic necessity for some employees to get more money, as they simply cannot live on what they are getting.

Mayor Gillen suggested appointing Mr. McKiernan as supervising custodian of the Recreation Department at a salary of $2,000 per annum. He stated that the position of supervising custodian was abolished by the Civil Service Commission, but the Yeas — Commissioners Archibald, Brennan, Monahan, Raymond, Mayor Gillen.

Mr. George M. Denny, of the Board of Education, appeared before the Board in reference to an article which appeared in the Newark Evening News on Friday, May 10th, charging the Board of Education with extravagance in the administration of its business. He stated that he represented himself as Chairman of the Committee on Buildings, Grounds and Supplies and no other member of the Board of Education. He stated it was absolutely unfair to charge the Board of Education with extravagance and not define the charge; that if there is any extravagance in the administration of the business of the Board of Education he felt responsible for it. He stated that he did not want the people of the City of Newark to labor under the misapprehension that the Board of Education is spending the city's money extravagantly. He stated that the interference of Mayor Gillen in the public school affairs of the City of Newark has prevented the best educator in the United States from coming to Newark to administer the school affairs of this city.

Mayor Gillen stated that he was being placed in a false light by the remarks of Mr. Denny; that statements had been frequently made in the past with reference to extravagant expenditures in the construction and maintenance of public school buildings, and that he did not charge any member of the Board of Education with dishonesty. He stated that he appointed Mr. Seymour as a member of the Board of Education because he was satisfied that Mr. Seymour was a competent engineer and possessed technical knowledge. He stated that the article which appeared in the Newark Evening News is very plain, and that any reasonable man who was not prejudiced could readily understand just exactly what was meant by it. He stated that Mr. Denny did not appear to criticize the appointment of Mr. Seymour or the article which appeared in the News, but that he evidently wanted to criticize his attitude as Mayor of the City of Newark.

Commissioner Monahan stated that he knew extravagance was practiced in the Board of Education, and cited the construction of South Side High School and Central High School as instances to prove that extravagance did exist in the Board of Education.

The following communication was received and read:

From Federation of Improvement Associations stating that since the inauguration of commission form of government there has been a gradual increase in salaries of city employees, and suggesting that experts be engaged to classify and standardize the employees of all city departments. Ordered filed.

Commissioner Brennan stated that he was not opposed to standardizing salaries, but he thought that the Commissioners possessed sufficient intelligence to know who were entitled to increases without engaging outside experts. He stated he was in favor of increasing salaries of all underpaid employees in view of the abnormal times and the high cost of living.

Dr. H. G. Hanrahan, John B. Brassner, representing the Federation of Improvement Associations, and Henry Hebler appeared before the Board and stated that they did not protest against granting increases to underpaid employees, but they thought the higher salaried employees should not be increased. They stated that the Board was thoroughly competent to pass on increases and did not approve of engaging outside experts for the purpose of standardizing or classifying the city employees.

Commissioner Raymond stated that he was actuated in recommending increases for the employees of his department because of the high cost of living and abnormal times. He stated it was purely a matter of economic necessity and that the employees could not live on what they were receiving.

Commissioner Archibald offered the following resolutions:

RESOLVED, That the sum of Nineteen thousand six hundred and thirty-two dollars and sixty cents ($19,632.60) be and the same is hereby appropriated to the City Treasurer, as per annexed certified list, being the semi-monthly payrolls of the Department of Public Affairs from May 1st, 1918, to May 16th, 1918, as follows:

Newark, N. J., May 23rd, 1918.

A regular meeting of the Board of Commissioners of Newark, N. J., was held on the above date in the Council Chamber, City Hall, Newark, at 11 o'clock a. m.

Present — Commissioners Archibald, Brennan, Monahan, Raymond, Mayor Gillen

The minutes of the meeting of May 16th, 1918, were read and approved.

Major W. S. Parker, representing the Roseville Battalion, Newark Home Defense League, appeared before the Board and requested an appropriation of $10,000 for the purpose of equipping the men connected with the battalion with rifles. He stated that they are active at all times to further the interests of the Federal Government and most of their men have acted on committees in connection with the liberty loans and Red Cross drives. He stated that their membership is increasing so fast that they are unable to meet expenses with the funds now in hand.

Commissioners Archibald and Raymond stated that they did not think the city had a moral right to appropriate the money, inasmuch as the battalion is not recognized as a local home guard. The roll being called, the motion was declared adopted by the following votes:

Yeas — Commissioners Archibald, Brennan, Monahan, Raymond, Mayor Gillen.

Mr. Edward Helmstetter appeared before the Board and protested against the appointment of William J. McKiernan as Supervising Custodian of the Bureau of Recreation. He charged Mr. McKiernan with designating city employees to do his private work during the city's time, and further charged that Mr. McKiernan accepted city goods and appropriated them to his own use.

Commissioners Archibald and Raymond stated that the charge is a serious matter and should be thoroughly investigated before appointing Mr. McKiernan.

Mayor Gillen stated that a conference was held in his office for the purpose of investigating the charges made against Mr. McKiernan, and that as a result of this investigation he was satisfied that Mr. McKiernan was innocent of the charges made against him. He stated that at the time Mr. McKiernan was in the employ of the city he was charged with the custody of tools and implements used in construction work by the Playground Commission, and that the men who appeared protesting against his appointment tried to make it appear that he used these articles for his own private use. He said the charges were not proven and there was nothing adduced at the hearing to prove that Mr. McKiernan had been dishonest in any of his transactions. He stated that he believed Mr. McKiernan was the right man for the position and that, if appointed, would render satisfactory and efficient service to the city.

Commissioner Archibald stated that he was Chairman of the Finance Committee in 1912 when Price, Waterhouse & Co. investigated the activities of Mr. McKiernan, and that as a result of this investigation Mr. McKiernan lost his position. He stated that is the reason why he cannot vote for the appointment of Mr. McKiernan.

Commissioner Raymond stated that since Mr. McKiernan was never prosecuted on the old charges he presumed him innocent, and therefore voted for his appointment on the recommendation of Mayor Gillen.

Mr. Henry F. Hilfers, representing the Essex Trades Council; William Umstadter, representing the Brewery Workers' Union; Mr. Henry Hebel, representing the Stationary Engineers' Union; Frank J. Goodwin, business agent of the Stationary Firemen's Union; Edward Reid, representing the Metal Polishers' Union; A. J. Cozzolino and Frank A. Fetridge appeared before the Board and voiced their sentiments against divorcing the local municipal employment bureau from the Federal and State Bureaus. They stated that if this were done it would be going a step backward, and therefore requested that they at least have an opportunity to intelligently look into the matter before this drastic action is taken.

The following communication was received and read:

From Lewis T. Bryant, Federal Director of Employment, stating that his attention was called by the representatives of the Newark Evening News to the fact that Mayor Gillen had requested a subordinate official of the Federal-State-Municipal Employment service to divorce the activities of the Government and State from those of the city, and as rapidly as possible to cause their removal from the offices which incidentally are partially paid for by the Government and State. Ordered filed.

At the request of the Commission, City Clerk Egan read the following article, which appeared in the Newark Evening News under date of May 22nd, 1918:

"Mr. Edward A. Brennan, Employment Bureau, City.

Dear Sir:

After giving the matter careful study and thought, I think it will be better for your employment bureau to work separate and apart from the State and National Employment Bureau. I believe the interests of the city demand this. I direct that you divorce your activities from the State and Federal bodies as early as possible.

As it is now, the City of Newark is paying a large sum of money to maintain a bureau which, used in connection with the outside bureaus, is largely engaged in sending labor, skilled and unskilled, out of the city, and even out of the State. I think this matter should be stopped at once.

From some very reliable information I have received, Mr. Burns of the Federal Bureau is operating to the detriment of this city. I would suggest that you make a report to me at once as to the most practical method of separating your activities from those of the Federal and State Bureaus, and I would even go so far as to suggest that the report include a physical separation at some early date. That is, I want to see the municipal bureau in a location apart from the other two bureaus. I suggest that as quickly as possible you remove from the premises occupied by your bureau all employees of the other two.

An early compliance with these instructions will be greatly appreciated.

Very truly yours,

Charles P. Gillen,
Mayor."

Mayor Gillen stated that his investigations led him to believe that the local employment bureau has been very active in helping the Federal and State Bureaus to send skilled and unskilled workers out of the City of Newark. If this practice were continued, he said, it would be detrimental to the citizens of Newark and the local manufacturing industries. He stated that it should be the first effort of the local employment bureau to find employment for the citizens of Newark right here in Newark and not outside of Newark; that he did not think the people of Newark should maintain a bureau and pay for it to send help away from the city, but that their duty and real effort should be to supply local industries. He stated that at a conference held several weeks ago with Newark employers of large numbers of men they complained of being short from 200 to 300 men. He insisted that the bureaus be divorced and stated he could see no good reason why the Federal Bureau could not continue their activities without the co-operation of the local bureau.

Commissioner Brennan stated that he was opposed to the Mayor's plan of divorcing the local employment bureau from the Federal and State Bureaus; that he had found that manufacturers of this city, especially those employing unskilled workers, were not paying anything like the wages paid in other localities. He stated that before the municipal bureau had been combined with the Federal and State Bureaus a nefarious system had existed in which government employment agencies in Newark had worked in collusion with the employment managers of the factories and the latter had refused to take men sent them by the public office. He stated that the overcoming of this system was one of the best things accomplished through the combination of forces, and the proposed separation was the most damaging thing that could be done to the success of the municipal bureau. He stated that no men are going to leave Newark to work elsewhere if the wages and conditions are just as good here.

Commissioner Raymond stated that when he was Mayor of Newark he, in co-operation with Commissioner Archibald and Colonel Bryant, brought about the establishment of the present system in the employment bureau. He stated that the policy inaugurated is a very effective one; that the question was more than a local one, as the bureau had been instrumental to a large degree in furthering the labor needs of the government for war purposes. He stated he was as much interested in Newark's welfare as any one else, but under present circumstances he was an American first and felt that the course enjoined by the Mayor's order was not a proper one at this time, in view of the work that had been done by the joint bureaus in the interest of prosecuting the war. He requested that the order divorcing the bureaus be rescinded.

Commissioner Archibald stated that he believed he had been in closer touch with the joint bureaus' work while he was City Clerk than any one else who was present could have been. He stated that the joint bureaus had done splendid work in the local, as well as the national interest, and expressed the hope that the Mayor would see his way clear to rescind the order separating the bureaus.

Commissioner Monahan stated that he was opposed to the separation of the bureaus for the same reasons as explained by Commissioners Brennan and Raymond. He stated that he had been an employer of skilled and unskilled workers for years, and that he always made it a practice to offer 2c or 3c more per hour to his men than the prevailing wages paid by outside industries in order to keep them in Newark.

After the Commission discussed the matter at considerable length and Mayor Gillen answered questions propounded by citizens, Commissioner Raymond moved that it is the sense of this Commission that the status be left as it is until the Commission takes the matter up again.

The roll being called, the motion was declared adopted by the following votes:

ANNUAL REPORTS.

Annual reports for the year 1917 of the following departments were received:

Department of Streets and Public Improvements.

The following communication was received and read:

"Department of Public Safety.

Office of the Fire Dept.

Newark, N. J., May 20, 1918.

Mr. John J. Connelly,

Fire Commissioner,

Newark, N. J.

Dear Sir:

I respectfully call your attention to the following matters which are for the safety and betterment of the Newark Fire Department:

At this time we have in course of construction two new fire houses to be known as Engine No. 26 and 27. These houses will be completed sometime this Fall and it will be necessary to supply each company with 2,000 feet of 2½" cotton covered rubber lined fire hose. I therefore recommend that steps be taken to have the necessary 4,000 feet on hand when the houses are completed to avoid any delay in equipping them.

At the present time we have on reserve only 3,000 feet of "second" hose 2½". This hose has been condemned and is to be used as a reserve hose. I not only consider this hose unreliable but a danger to the city at large if the emergency should arise for its use. I strongly recommend the purchase of 10,000 feet of 2½" cotton covered rubber lined fire hose to be used as a reserve supply in case of emergency. If a large fire should occur and considerable hose burned or damaged and the department called upon to use reserve hose a very dangerous hazard would be created if a sufficient quantity of reserve hose were not on hand.

Respectfully submitted,

Paul J. Moore,

Chief Engineer."

Commissioner Brennan stated that he had the communication read so that the Commissioners can be made acquainted with the conditions. He stated that the recommendation of Chief Engineer Moore should be concurred in at this time as it would not only be a saving to the city financially, but would be a guarantee against any possible large fire which we might have. He stated that he had a resolution prepared, should it meet with the approval of the Commissioners, but he did not desire to submit it until the matter was brought before the Commission.

The recommendation was concurred in and the communication ordered filed.

Commissioner Brennan offered the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The Director of Public Safety has executed a contract with the Eureka Fire Hose Company for 7,000 feet, more or less, of 2½" Paragon brand fire hose at the price of $1.25 per foot in accordance with proposal of said company, submitted in response to an advertisement for proposals by the Director of Public Safety based upon fire hose specifications of the Fire Department of the City of Newark; and

WHEREAS, The Director of Public Safety has been advised by said Eureka Company that the price of said Paragon brand fire hose will advance on June 1st, 1918, to $1.45 per foot and said company has offered to supply the Director of Public Safety with such additional quantities of said hose at the prevailing market price of $1.25 per foot, if orders are placed before June 1st, 1918, conditioned upon deliveries to be made before December 31st, 1918, and payment therefor upon invoice rendered subsequent to December 31st, 1918; and

WHEREAS, The Chief Engineer of the Fire Department has recommended and urged the Director of Public Safety to purchase an additional quantity of 10,000 feet of said Paragon hose at once in order to take advantage of and derive the benefit of the prevailing price; it is therefore

RESOLVED, That the Director of Public Safety be and is hereby authorized and directed to purchase of the said Eureka Fire Hose Company 10,000 feet of 2½" Paragon brand fire hose at the price of $1.25 per foot.
